Speech at Chicago Is Truman Climax

By The Associated Press.

A Democratic Jubilee in Chicago tonight and a Republican primary in Pennsylvania Tuesday make this an important week in 1950 politics.

The Democratic gathering, at which President Truman will make an outright political speech, is the climax to his Western tour. Party supporters say it will be the biggest political affair ever held outside a national convention.

Truman will speak at 10:30 p. m. (EST), with television and nationwide radio broadcasts, after a torchlight parade through the city. Chicago holds strong attachments for Truman, for it was here in 1944 that he was nominated for vice president. Again in 1948, the city's Democrats put on a big rally which some say marked a turn of the political tide in his favor and helped lead to the presidency.

The Pennsylvania Republican primary Tuesday involves party control in the biggest GOP stronghold in the nation.

Leading the intra-party opponents are former Senator Joseph R. Grundy, veteran political chief, who swung most of the Pennsylvania delegation to the nomination of Thomas E. Dewey for president in 1948; and Gov. James H. Duff, who led insurgents against Dewey.

This time Duff is out for the senatorial nomination, with John S. Fine, former superior court judge, as his running mate for governor.

Running against Duff with Grundy's support is Rep. John C. Kunkel, a six-term member of the U. S. House. Grundy also backs Jay Cooke, Philadelphia lawyer, against Fine for governor.

Both sides claimed success in advance. Duff campaign managers, the champion of "the average guy," Kunkel called for an end to what he called "handout government."

In the Democratic primary in Pennsylvania, Senator Francis P. Biddle is expected to succeed himself in the U. S. senate. Richardson Dilworth, Philadelphia city treasurer, has only token opposition for the gubernatorial nomination.

Even before President Truman reached Chicago Sunday night, the Democrats had been stirring things up for various conferences topped off.

Mother-in-Law Claims Johnson Mean When Drunk

AMARILLO, May 15.—(AP)—Eveland Johnson was described in court today as a man who got drunk often, mistreated his wife, and "saw nothing wrong" in supporting him by prostitution.

The testimony was offered by Mrs. R. W. Heaney of Linwood, Calif., mother-in-law of Johnson, and a rebuttal witness today in Johnson's murder trial.

"He told me he saw no objection to her making a living for him with the milks," she said, "plainly-dressed woman testifies 'He said there were cases of that kind in the Bible.'"

She said Eveland and Diana came to live with her and her husband, a postman, at Linwood after the 30-year-old Munising, Mich., redhead was discharged from the army.

Mrs. Heaney said Johnson got a job in a lumberyard and worked steadily for three weeks but thereafter "when Red got his paycheck he would drink." She said he spent most of a $485 veterans bonus from the state of Michigan on a three or four day drinking bout, returned to the Heaney home, and grabbed Diana by the throat tight enough to leave fingerprints.

The defense rested its case today in behalf of the World War I army force veteran charged in the bludgeoning death of W. A. (Tex) Thornton, renowned Texas oil field troubleshooter whose nude and beaten body was found in an Amarillo tourist cabin June 23, 1949.

Southerners Confident They Can Beat Attempt At Closure On FEPC Measure

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(AP)—Southerners said today they can beat an expected administration attempt to close the Federal Employment Practices Commission (FEPC) bill.

Majority leader Lucas (D-Ill.) has told the senate that he will make the test Friday in an effort to push through the controversial Fair Employment Practices Commission (FEPC) bill.

Senator Russell (D-Ga.), floor general for Southerners battling the measure, told a reporter: "I don't think it's possible for them to get 64 senators to invoke a gag rule this week."

Under a rule adopted by the senate last year 64 senators, or two-thirds of the senate membership, can limit debate and thus force a vote on any issue. This is called a cloture.

Senator Lucas told a civil rights panel in Chicago that he had not an hour to spare to discuss the FEPC bill although he is "not overoptimistic."

The FEPC measure is one part of President Truman's civil

75,000 Evacuated in Winnipeg Area

By The Associated Press.

About 75,000 persons had fled flood-menaced Winnipeg today.

Across the continent to the south, Texas residents were recovering from hurricane force winds which injured two persons and scattered wreckage in three coastal towns Sunday.

A mass of cool air from Canada moved meanwhile into the northern Great Lakes region and upper Mississippi Valley, bringing freezing temperatures to the Lake Superior area. Frosts were forecast as possible over much of Wisconsin and portions of Michigan tonight.

About one-fifth of the population of greater Winnipeg had fled Canadian officials said the evacuation, mainly of women and children, would be speeded up to ease the problem of supplying food and other necessities to flood-fighters in the city.

The swollen Red River already has inundated six square miles of Winnipeg and the suburban areas. It held fairly steady Sunday at 30.2 feet, 12 feet above flood level. The flood crest is expected Tuesday.

Texas wind damage was heaviest at Sarita, a village which serves the big Kennedy ranch. Also hit hard were Riviera and Ricardo, north of Sarita.

Jake Trussell, Kingsville newspaper editor, said the winds must have been hitting 90 miles an hour at Sarita.

Mrs. M. G. Garcia, 15, was killed by lightning near Sebastian, in the Rio Grande Valley while she was working in a cotton field.

A hailstorm cut a 30 mile path through northwestern Alabama Sunday, causing damage estimated at $500,000. Cotton and seed crops suffered most. At Reform, Ala., windows were shattered, gardens crushed, roofs pierced by ice pellets. No injuries were reported.

Helicopters Used To Save Woman At Niagara Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., May 15.—(AP)—Two men in a helicopter risked their lives today to save a woman clinging to a rock above the Horseshoe Falls of the Niagara river.

A dramatic rescue was effected with a second helicopter, after the first had pitched its two occupants into the water and exploded.

The woman, Mrs. Jeanette Bugay, 25, of Niagara Falls, suffered from shock and exposure and was hospitalized.

Her husband Sigmund, a taxicab driver, said she had suffered a nervous breakdown and was badly upset by the brief disappearance of their two children Saturday.

Two park employees, Herbert Sedita and John Paonessa, heard her screaming as she clung to a rock 75 feet from an island about 300 feet above the Horseshoe, or Canadian, Falls.

Bugay said his wife had disappeared Sunday afternoon.

How Mrs. Bugay got to the rock was not determined. The bridge approach from Goat Island to the Three Sisters Islands had been barricaded to the public.

Missing Child Is Found Safe After Night Out

PLEASANTVILLE, Pa., May 15.—(AP)—A two and one-half year old boy, missing since a family picnic Sunday, was found safe today a few miles from the spot where he disappeared.

Part of the 500 searchers who spent the night tramping woods and fields, came across little Jackie Copeland at 7 a. m. (CST) leaning against a tree.

The searching party said the lad, a resident of this North-western oil town, apparently had spent the night in a nearby oil well power house. The boy was rushed to a hospital in Titusville for a checkup.

Republican From Texas Sworn In As Congressman

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(AP)—Texas' first Republican congressman in 18 years, Ben H. Guill of Pampa, was sworn in today as a member of the House.

The 40-year-old real estate broker fills a vacancy caused by the appointment of Eugene Worley, a Democrat, to a federal judgeship.

Guill was presented to the House by Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts and was given the oath by Speaker Sam Rayburn, a Texas Democrat.

Airman Found Shot

BONHAM, Tex., May 15.—(AP)—Col. Charles Gene Graham of the U. S. Air Force was found shot to death today at the home of his father, Mike Graham, near Lamasco, this county.

Gambling Gathers Billion a Month From Americans

NEW YORK, May 15.—(AP)—A new survey on gambling says Americans spend nearly a billion dollars a month on bookmakers, slot machines and policy games.

The $12,000,000,000 a year total breaks down into $8,000,000,000 for bookies, $1,000,000,000 for the slots and from $1,000,000,000 to $3,000,000,000 for the policy or numbers rackets.

The survey was made in 17 articles on varying phases of gambling by experts writing in the annuals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science. The Academy is a private organization founded in Philadelphia in 1889 as a discussion forum.

The May issues of the annuals, released recently, listed these main conclusions:

1. The ordinary gambler is a "sucker who must lose in the long run."

2. The big-time gambling can't operate without political or police protection.

3. Gambling rackets are helped by legitimate communications channels, and elimination of sports wire services to bookmakers would reduce them from a major national racket to "a petty local nuisance."

Atlantic Pact Nations Study Western Defenses

By WES GALLAGHER.

LONDON, May 15.—(AP)—Britain, France and America—determined to keep troops in Germany as guard against possible Soviet aggression—met with the other Atlantic pact nations today to try to line up Western Europe's defenses.

The main item of the conference was the foreign ministers of the 12 nations, as they open their three-day meeting, is how they can afford to spend on defense without stifling economic recovery.

Some of the nations' military chiefs have recommended in secret reports far more troops and equipment than their economic experts say they can pay for.

The big three decision to keep West Germany an armed camp was announced Sunday night. It stressed the first time the defensive nature of the occupation troops, rather than their police duties.

Another upshot of the three-day meeting between America's Secretary of State Acheson, Britain's Ernest Bevin and France's Robert Schuman was their refusal to give

Banker Attacks Truman's Small Business Plans

FORT WORTH, May 15.—(AP)—The Truman proposal for government sponsored insurance of small business loans was attacked today at the opening session of the 66th annual convention of the Texas Bankers Association.

F. Raymond Peterson of Peterson, N. J., president of the American Bankers Association, said the proposal, "sinks the roots of the government's financial influence even more deeply still into the vitals of the enterprise system."

"One of the basic tenets of total state control is that government should have control of, and directly influence, the capital and credit which industry uses."

"There is no room for nationalization of banking, and eventually the nationalization of business and industry, than this Peterson said.

Peterson told approximately 1,500 TBA delegates banks have new responsibility today. He said they must encourage wise credit policies and practices by the government and discourage government credit policies and practices "which we believe are unsound."

Soviets Seeking Tighter Controls Over Satellites

LONDON, May 15.—(AP)—A reported purge of Polish Communist party leaders is the latest development in a campaign in all the Soviet satellite states to tighten Communist control and shut out Western influence.

Diplomatic sources in Warsaw said government ministers were being criticized at last week's meeting of the Polish Communist party central committee. Complaints ranged from mismanagement of public affairs to failure to obey party directives.

Soviet influence in Poland was believed strengthened by the appointment to the party's ruling Politburo of Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky, a former Russian army commander who now heads Poland's army. Another Politburo appointee was Zenon Nowak, a veteran Communist believed to be heading the drive to rid the party of "revisionist" elements who dislike dictation from Moscow.

Political observers here believe the Polish shake-up is following the pattern established in such other satellite states as Czechoslovakia and Hungary, and Bulgaria.

The purges aim at:

1. Tightening of party discipline over government ministers and other party members.
2. Speeding up communication of the satellite countries.
3. Intensification of attacks for political purposes on the Western world.

Greeks Turn Down 'Twin-Producing' Powdered Milk

LAKE SUCCESS, May 15.—(AP)—Expectant mothers in Polykastro, Greece, would not touch powdered milk when it first was brought to their village. Finally agents of the United Nations Emergency Fund persuaded them to use it by saying it had special ingredients.

Later the first two women who used powdered milk gave birth to twins on the same day. The twins were the first born in Polykastro in 10 years.

Now the expectant mothers of Polykastro won't touch powdered milk and this time the UNCEF agents are trying to persuade them that twins and powdered milk are not related.

Liberty Bell Will Inaugurate New U. S. Bond Drive

PHILADELPHIA, May 15.—(AP)—The historic liberty bell will ring out again tonight to sound the start of a drive during which the government hopes a billion dollars worth of savings bonds will be sold.

The famed bell—capable only of a toneless "bong" because of a crack in its side—will be tapped by U. S. Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder. The sound will be carried across the nation by radio.

After tonight's ceremonies—to be witnessed by descendants of the nation's first president and independence from the 13 original states—replicas of the liberty bell will be taken to all 48 states and the District of Columbia.

These bells—cast in France just as was the original—will carry the slogan "Save For Your Independence. Buy U. S. Savings Bonds."

The campaign—with an official quota of $555,950,000—will end July 4.

In addition to Secretary Snyder, President Truman and Pennsylvania Governor J. Markert will speak tonight on the "Independence Hour" hookup.

Business and industry are footing the bill of the extensive campaign to reach every man, woman and child in the nation. About 3,000,000 volunteers are expected to ring doorbells on behalf of the drive, including 200,000 newspaper carrier boys.

LATTIMORE, JESSUP ALSO TALK TARGETS

McCarthy Demands Truman Dismiss Two Top Officials

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 15.—(AP)—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) today accused Secretary of State Acheson of betraying the United States in Asia. He asked that President Truman fire Acheson.

Contending American policies played into the hands of the Communists in China, McCarthy said that Acheson had "bought" a plan for the Far East devised by Owen Lattimore which is "gigantic in its fraud and complete in its deceit."

He said that Philip Jessup, U. S. roving ambassador, was a "third member of the Lattimore-Acheson axis" and asked that Truman fire Jessup.

McCarthy hit out at Acheson, Jessup and Lattimore in an address prepared for the Diamond Jubilee Convention of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Lattimore is a Johns Hopkins University professor and specialist on the Far East, who has been an occasional consultant to the State Department.

McCarthy has concentrated much of his fire on Lattimore in contending that the State Department harbors Communists and Red sympathizers.

Acheson has denied he is a Communist or a sympathizer. Acheson and former Secretaries of State have declared also that Lattimore was not the author of American policies in the Far East.

McCarthy said in his prepared speech that the strategy of the Acheson-Lattimore axis in Asia is that of "hitting Communists with the hands of a silk handkerchief while the beat the brains out of your friends at the back door."

He said it was "masterminded" by Lattimore and "Mr. Acheson has bought it and pulled it to the entire Far East."

He wound up with this direct plea to Truman, "now enroute

Hopes For Peace In Rail Strike Appear Dimmer

CHICAGO, May 15.—(AP)—Picketing was spreading in the nation's railroads today, but hopes for peace grew dimmer as the strike went into its sixth day with pickets halting or attempting to halt rail operations in widely separated areas of the nation. Efforts of the walkout were spreading.

Representatives of the National (Railway) Mediation Board held separate conferences throughout Sunday with railroad officials and heads of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, who struck to enforce a demand for a second fireman on multiple unit Diesel locomotives.

The conferences broke up around 11 p. m. Sunday night and Leverett Edwards, a member of the Board, said "It looks bad."

Earlier in the evening, it had appeared that the mediators might be making some progress in their effort to halt the strike of more than 18,000 firemen which began last Wednesday. But at 11 p. m. the mediators' negotiations were "derailed" for the moment. He declined to give details.

Asked if any meetings were scheduled for today, Edwards replied that "we haven't planned any talks yet, but I hope there will be some."

In the south, meanwhile, a Union official claimed that every "important sector" of the 8,000-mile Southern Railway System had been tied up or crippled by the walkout of 1,200 more firemen and enginemen.

L. B. Johnson, southern general chairman for the Union, said trainmen from seven sections had been "out" since Friday.

He asserted that Southern operations in strategic areas are "practically shut down" and that every one of the far flung system's some 27 divisions was affected.

Elston Doubts If Russians Will Ever Be Able To Launch Attack On U. S.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(AP)—Rep. Elston (R-Ohio) said today he doesn't believe Russia ever will be able to launch a mass atomic attack on this country at one time.

Elston is a member of the Senate House atomic energy committee.

He said he doesn't believe either the Soviet Union or this country would be eager to drop the first atomic bomb in event of war. An atomic attack on the United States would be a suicide mission, he said, and the Russians would know it.

"If the Russians thought they could win a quick war in a matter of days by sending wave after wave of planes at us with atom bombs in a sneak attack, I have no doubt they would do so," he told a reporter.

"But I don't believe Russia is, or ever will be, prepared to deliver a substantial load of atom bombs on targets in this country at one time."

Elston said he believes the Russians "probably recognize the truth of this," and therefore would hesitate to invite retaliatory a-bombing by a power that might be capable of inflicting more punishment.

On the other hand, he said, the United States views its a-bombs as being used only against attacks on this country.

"Interception, of course, is the best defense against an atom bomb air raid," Elston said. "We don't have the interception power we want, but what we have is very good. An enemy raid would be a suicide mission."

He said Congress is moving to strengthen these defenses, and "by the time the Russians have increased their supply of atom bombs, we'll be stronger, too."

Elston recently said the United States has learned how Russian a-bombs are manufactured, and that the Soviets are no further advanced toward creating a hydrogen bomb than this country.

He also contends that there has been "no such hysteria" about a-bombs and h-bombs. He said he considers it would be quite a task for any country to beat another one to pieces with bombs that at best have a damage radius of 10 miles.

Murder Charge Filed Following Shooting Scrape

Johnnie Jones, 30, 717 East Fifteenth avenue, negro, was charged with murder with malice at noon Saturday in a complaint filed before Judge J. W. Sheppard, justice of the peace, in connection with the death of Sebastian Bennett, negro, at 4:35 a. m.

Bennett was shot in the abdomen with a .22 rifle shortly after midnight and was rushed to the P. and S. hospital where an operation was performed. Chief of Police Bruce Nutt said.

Bond of $1,000 was set by Judge Sheppard after the defendant waived examining trial. The complaint was accepted by Seton T. Holsey, assistant county attorney, after the defendant had signed a statement of events leading up to and following the shooting. The complaint was signed by C. B. Powell, city police, and the warrant was returned by Constable Joe Allen.

The bail is expected to be arranged during the afternoon. The rifle allegedly used in the shooting was delivered to the sheriff's department at the jail by Officers Powell and Chapman.

Jones said he had seen the prowler, whom he did not know, before reaching his home, and later saw a man crouching in his (Jones) garden. Accosting the man, Jones said that the other man threatened to kill him (Jones) if he (Jones) approached him. One shot was fired, according to the statement, and the other man leaped out of the garden and ran.

A wounded man later was discovered some distance away, the statement continued. Jones said he had carried the rifle in his car since his automobile had been stripped some time ago. Jones parked his car a block away from his residence because of the threatening weather and muddy condition of the street in front of his house.

Officers W. W. Wiswell and R. E. Steele answered the call early Saturday and discovered the injured negro, Chief of Police Nutt stated. Bennett, who lived at 210 West Sixteenth avenue, was taken to the hospital in a Calhoun ambulance. The defendant is employed at the Corsicana Trading Post and the deceased was employed at the Collins Street Bakery, officers said. Jones was placed in the city jail after his arrest and was surrendered to county officers after the complaint was filed.

Tourist Booklet Issued On Brazil

A new travel booklet, designed by Pan American Union's travel division, is now available to the public, according to recent announcement.

Designed especially to help tourists plan vacation trips to Brazil, this booklet contains a general description of the country and its historical background; latest information on land, sea and air routes and travel facilities within the country; sections on Rio de Janeiro, Petropolis and Teresopolis and numerous other cities of the country. The highlights of the country—Carnival scenes, Copacabana Beach, historic buildings, art and architecture of colonial and modern times; scenic highways and landscapes; hotels and handicrafts—are portrayed by 38 selected photographs and by a pictorial map covering two pages. The cover, designed by Warren Childress, is printed in yellow and green, taken from colors of the Brazilian flag, and bears the photograph of the statue of Christ, the Redeemer atop Corcovado Peak, overlooking Rio de Janeiro.

A section on practical information includes entry requirements, currency, U. S. customs exemptions and types of clothing needed by the traveler; also tips on shopping, native dishes, sports and amusements. A bibliography on general background reading and travel guides concludes the booklet.

Kay T. Gulley, IOOF Home, Honored At Corsicana FFA Chapter Banquet

By CLYDE F. JOHNSON

Daily Sun Staff

A 18-year-old boy from the Odd Fellows Home has been selected as the outstanding future farmer in the Corsicana FFA chapter.

Kay T. Gulley, who for 11 years has been at the Home, was bestowed this honor at the Fairgrounds Saturday night at a father-son banquet which climaxed the local FFA's first annual project show.

A beautiful trophy, on which annually will be inscribed the year's outstanding FFA student, was presented to Kay by the FFA chapter.

As for city life, Brown declared: "There's no use in a boy looking to the bright lights of the city; they'll blind his fingers off."

The speaker was introduced by W. H. Norwood, superintendent of the Corsicana schools, who expressed his pride for the "young man who will be the future of the world's bread baskets."

Norwood lauded young James Cummins, instructor of the CHS youngsters.

Among the guests at the banquet were CHS Principal R. A. Armistead, who gave the invocation; Garland Matthews and Odie Peterson, CHS coaches who judged the winner of the FFA award; L. P. Forsythe of the high school shop; H. T. Lester, Ennis; Zelma Hanson, FFA chapter sweetheart; Harry Montgomery, W. E. McKinney, representing the Chamber of Commerce, which awarded cash prizes to winners in the project show held Saturday morning at the Fairgrounds; and many others, including fathers of the boys.

Boys participating on the program, which young Bill Barnes presided over, were Ernest Douglas, Oliver Masker, Troy Murphy, Bobby Hall, Johnny Garner, Robert Nokes, Bob Russell.

Each boy presented introduced his father, or guest.

Soil Conservation Program Will Be Given At Kerens Squirrel Stew

KERENS, May 13.—(Spl.)—Farmers of East Navarro county will be honored guests Tuesday night at a squirrel stew sponsored by the Kerens Chamber of Commerce on the A. L. Bain farm nine miles southeast of town. Howell Bristner, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, has announced.

In the event weather conditions interfere, the stew will be given at the local armory building.

C. B. Spencer, Dallas, connected with the Texas Cottonseed Crushers Association, will speak.

The program will be in connection with the observance of National Conservation Week and L. M. Bennett of the local work unit and Jack Everheart, Corsicana, county and district soil conservation district, are in charge of arrangements.

Several hundred farmers and business men of this section are expected to attend.

First place—Bobby Charles Hall; second, R. C. Farmer; third, Norman Nichols; fourth, Donald Farmer.

MISS BETSY DORIS STOKES AND KENNETH RAY GEORGE MARRIED IN MERTENS RITES

Miss Betsy Doris Stokes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kyle H. Stokes, of Mertens, became the bride of Kenneth Ray George, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. George of Corsicana Friday, May 5th, at 8 o'clock P. M. at the Methodist Church at Mertens. The Rev. J. B. Cole was the officiant for the double-ring ceremony.

Large baskets of gladioli and greenery adorned the altar space, and white tapers gleamed from altar rail and floor candelabra to provide a candlelight setting for the bride's brother, Lonnie Stokes, and the bridegroom's sister, Miss Louise George.

Miss Helen Marr was in the piano for a prelude of pre-nuptial selections which included "I Love You Truly" and "Because." She also played the traditional wedding marches.

Given in Marriage By Father. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a street-length dress of ice-blue crepe. She wore a white picture hat, and carried a white Testament overlaid with a large white orchid and showered with shattered white carnations and diminutive satin ribbons. Her only jewelry was a lavallier which belonged to her mother.

Miss Regina Stegall, her maid of honor, wore navy sheer with white accessories and carried a Colonial bouquet of pink roses and carnations.

Billy Conant attended the bridegroom as best man. The mothers of the couple wore black and sheer dresses with black accessories and matching corsages of pink carnations.

Reception Follows Ceremony. Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Grooms. Mrs. James E. McMillen presided at the three-tiered wedding cake which was embellished with sugar-spun pink roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Grooms presided at the punch service, and Miss June Pelham registered the guests in the bride's book.

When Mr. and Mrs. George left for a wedding trip to San Antonio, Mrs. George was wearing navy sheer with navy and white accessories and an orchid corsage. They are now making their home at 757 West Second Avenue. The bride is employed by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company and the bridegroom is an employee of Texas Miller Products Company.

Out-of-Town Guests. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Stokes and children of Ennis; Mr. and Mrs. R. P. George and son Guy, of Shreveport, La.; Mr. and Mrs. James E. McMillen and son, Danny of Dallas; Mrs. Earl G. Atkins of Waco; Mrs. Nart Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Conant, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Allen Academy Ramblers Trowned Navarro Bulldogs In Final Game

By TALMADGE CANANT.

Sun Sports Staff

The Navarro Bulldogs closed their 1950 conference baseball season here Friday, dropping a 3-1 decision to Allen Academy's Ramblers at Territo Park.

The Ramblers, who had had rained-out games, scheduled with both Panola and Navarro, played the Ponies in Chargo Friday morning and lost 6-1, giving Panola the zone championship. The Ramblers rebounded here Friday afternoon to edge Coach Guyile Akridge's boys.

Statistics of the game point to supremacy by Navarro in almost every department except scoring. However, good support and adequate pitching kept the Allen crew ahead, once they got there.

That was accomplished in the fifth frame, when Bramlett popped one over the right field wall with one aboard. On Allen's next time in town they added another run off two singles and a walk.

Bulldog Tally. Navarro managed to score in the seventh after Clint Shaw doubled. Cleveland sacrificed him to third, and he came home on a fielder's choice as Tarver grounded out.

Bobby Lawrence started for Navarro but was relieved with one out in the fifth and the bases loaded. Bill Reed walked one across the plate before he steadied down and fanned four straight batters in the remaining frames.

Robert Johnson went the route for Allen. He fanned only one batter—Ted Darland in the second, but his support carried him along as most of the Navarro batters failed to find holes in the defenses.

The game concluded the Navarro season, with three conference losses on their record.

TURBULENT TEENS

Parents of teen-age youngsters, bombarded on all sides by advice as to their care and treatment, may be excused if they feel bewildered. How far does adolescent exuberance have to go before it can be considered abnormal? How much or how little heavy-handed authority is needed in cases of rebellion? How far is a parent responsible for a child's misdeeds? These and other questions cause many wakeful nights.

A Louisville psychiatrist, speaking in Chicago recently, had words of comfort for beleaguered parents. "While ways of youth may seem strange to the settled and mature adult, experienced doctors and parents know the vast majority of adolescent problems will right themselves," said Dr. S. Spafford Ackerly. A certain amount of turbulence is natural to the young in the growing-up process, and what they need most is optimism, giving them confidence in themselves. For good or ill, the foundation of their upbringing has been laid in their earlier years, and the future will show the result.

It bears repeating that the foundation of the child's upbringing is laid in the early years. Domestic stability, religious training, encouragement of self-confidence and a sense of responsibility—all of these things should belong to the child. With such a background he will not go far wrong as adolescent or adult.

STAND-BY DRAFT

After sitting on it for months, the House Armed Services Committee has put its stamp of approval on legislation which would keep the military draft in existence, but carefully prevent any use of it. The draft law would be extended for two years, but could not be employed without specific agreement of both houses of Congress as to the existence of a national emergency. This seems to reflect a certain lack of confidence in the good judgment of the President and his military executives.

This proposed measure would keep the draft machinery intact, however, and that is the primary necessity at this time. The shackles on its employment are less important in fact than in theory, since it is hardly likely that they would cause any significant delay in putting the draft to use in the event of real need.

The restriction is a token concession, without much meaning, to those who raise objections to the military draft on emotional rather than reasoned grounds. It does not, of course, meet the arguments of those who oppose conscription as a matter of principle.

TOO MUCH SECRECY

There is almost, but not quite, an element of humor in the matter of the Senate investigating committee and the State Department loyalty files. After refusal to yield the files was made an issue and carried to the President, it was discovered that the files in question had been made available for four separate committees four years ago. Someone must have been a little sheepish about it. Yet the incident is not quite funny because it is a symptom of deep-seated affliction of American government—too much secrecy.

The fantastic volume of official secrets has some very bad results. In the first place it undermines the protection of secrets which really need to be guarded. An indication of this result was

PILL TAKERS.
Gay twenty will tell you that forty seems old.
The forties, the coats of the Sixties will hold.
All say that a man is as young as he feels,
Until he has pills he must take
after meals.
Age shouldn't be reckoned by counting the years.
Nor when at the temples the silver appears.
But a man's getting on when his pocket reveals
A collection of pills he must take
after meals.
One look round the table; the women and men
Are as young as they feel. I repeat it again.
But don't draw attention to one who conceals
The pill that she carries so take
after meals.
Just mind your own business, you youngsters so gay.
If you live, Time will take your digestion away.
And whenever that asset the old fellow steals
You, too, will be taking a pill
after meals.

seen during the war, when the new title "top secret" was created because documents market "secret" had become so commonplace that military officials were afraid to trust in the effectiveness of that label. Now "top secret" has become almost equally dubious. The embarrassing State Department incident was a result of the same thing. Files become so cluttered with secret documents that it is a superhuman task to keep track of the relative importance of secrecy in individual cases, and to know which ones have been disclosed.

An overabundance of official secrets also undermines public confidence in the government. The suspicion arises more and more frequently that officials put the clamp of secrecy on their files not because the national interest requires it but to protect themselves from the discovery of blundering, incompetency or corruption. This suspicion may not often be justified, but how is it to be allayed? The nation would be much better off with fewer secrets, and those better kept.

CRIME INVESTIGATION

The Senate has decided to go ahead with its much-discussed investigation of crime. The expenditure authorized is three times the original proposed cost, so the investigators should not be hampered by financial worries. The scheduled inquiry has great possibilities for either good or ill; which will result depends on the true aims of the investigators.

If this investigation is to be made a political affair by which the majority members create a diversion, the minority members hunt for scandals with which to embarrass the administration, and their chairman achieves personal fame, then the result can hardly be anything but political mud-slinging and ballyhoo. If the probe is to be directed toward learning whether federal laws could be designed more effectively for use against crime syndicates and criminal links with the political world, and to learn why shortcomings exist in enforcement of present laws and how enforcement can be improved, then the field for good and needed work is limitless.

The senators named to conduct the investigation have a chance to make themselves known as fearless expositors of festering sores on the body politic, which everybody knows are there, anyway. Or they can accept less obvious recognition as earnest, hard-working, little-noticed seekers after the cause and cure. Which course will they choose?

SATIRIST NEEDED

One thing is usually missing in the Washington hulla-balloo, satire. So many personalities and events today cry out for a deflating satirical touch. Yet persons who could give it are rare indeed on the Washington scene.

Some observers say that the Capitol has seen no satirist since Speaker Thomas B. Reed, sixty years ago, in the days when Maine led all other states in the ability of its congressional delegation. Reed deflated one stuffed shirt with the dry observation: "Every time the gentleman opens his mouth, he subtracts something from the sum total of human knowledge." Another time, when a non-stop orator finally ended with the peroration, "Like Henry Clay, I would rather be right than be president," Reed took his measure with the bland remark, "The gentleman need not worry, he will never be either."

WHO KNOWS -- IT MAY PAY OFF !

Reed's irony was not always so biting. Tennessee had a congressman named John Wesley Gaines of whom Reed was fond. Once Gaines had taken a stand contrary to Reed's. The speaker gazed at him mournfully, observing, "John Wesley Gaines, John Wesley Gaines, they used to say that you had brains. Oh Wesley Gaines, oh Wesley Gaines." No more was heard from Gaines on that occasion.

Congress could do with a few Reeds today.

RUSSIAN PRESS

The four-page Russian newspapers devote only one page to news of the outside world, according to a report from Moscow.

The rest of the paper is devoted to domestic news, classified as economic, cultural and political. The economic news items discuss farm work, comparing progress in different sections and urging greater accomplishment on those who are falling behind in production. Industrial production is spurred on by competitions to be judged on May Day. Literary and dramatic criticism is confined to spotting any so-called false ideologies. Political news consists largely of reports from party organizations.

The reaction of an American reader to such a newspaper would be one of extreme boredom. The life and color, the everyday drama, the world-covering international news, and the folksy human interest stories of the American press are a testimony to the exciting quality of life in a free country. Quite aside from its restrictive quality, life in Russia as seen from its newspapers looks dull indeed.

THE EMPLOYMENT LEVEL

Some bad cases of business jitters, evident after the February report on employment by the Census Bureau, now seem to have evaporated under the influence of the March and April reports. In February the number of unemployed was reported near the pre-war years. In April the number at work was two thousand short of sixty million, and the number of unemployed was more than a million less than in February. Both figures in the April report indicated a very healthy employment situation.

There were both some noisy manifestations in Washington and some very real uneasiness in parts of the nation because of the high unemployment figure reported in February. Now that these have been dispelled, it might be well to give a sober second thought to these monthly employment reports and their significance. They are part of an extensive and not always consistent welter of statistics emanating regularly from various government bureaus. The figures in these monthly employment reports are not exact, they are not the result of an actual count of the people at work and the people looking for work at a given moment. They are estimates, based on survey samples. The sampling process may at times be amazingly accurate in interpretations, and may at times be equally inaccurate. Remember 1948?

The monthly Census Bureau employment report is an economic guide post, which is valuable to alert business people along with the cost of living index by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the business activity charts of the Federal Reserve System, and others. But these are no more than guide posts. They are not themselves assurances of either doom or boom.

SPARE TIRE SAFEGUARD

It is easy to lose your spare tire from some 1950 model cars. So say Cleveland police, who have discovered that the locks can be sprung by a screwdriver or heavy knife, or even by a hard blow of the fist. Drivers who find this weakness in their cars are advised to anchor the tire inside the car with a chin, and perhaps with a heavy padlock in addition.

Any owner of a new automobile who finds that his luggage compartment can be thus easily entered is likely to be pretty disgusted about it, for a spare tire deserves the best of protection. What other part of the car has such long periods of inactivity, yet is so vital when its moment comes?

THE STATEHOOD BILLS

It must seem to the residents of Alaska and Hawaii that the processes of legislation in the American democracy are painfully slow and halting. The Senate Interior Committee has been wrestling with a long series of hearings on the statehood bill for the two territories, with Senate floor consideration still ahead. The time grows short, for with the coming of summer days the members of Congress begin to think deeply about cooler fields and the election battlegrounds.

It will be a grave and needless disappointment to these people if, after the settlement of House approval of their statehood petitions, they should see their hopes die in the Senate for want of action. It would be a quite different matter if the Senate should vote on the bills and reject them. Through the period these two territories have been seeking the position of states it has very often seemed that Congress simply would not take time to consider the matter. This impression has been particularly strong in the Senate.

The proposal to admit two new states is not a small thing. It is of overwhelming importance to the people of the two territories. It is of consequence also to the entire nation, partly for the contribution to our future which Alaska and Hawaii might make as states, as much so for the morale of these and other territories and for our standing in the world. The matter deserves time and attention by the Senate.

The Voice of America broadcasts are getting through to Russia, says Fry D. Kohler, director of the State Department's International Broadcasting Division. Whether many Russians are bold enough to listen is one of the things that we may wait a long time to know.

Pull, keep pulling for your goal—these are worthy words for all. Among those who have done it the hard way were two Norwegians who in 1896 rowed across the Atlantic.

Silence is golden, 'tis said. Perhaps that helps explain why there are so few millionaires.

Seek Clemency For Wm. R. Ray

AUSTIN, May 15.—(AP)—Three more persons called on the state board of pardons and paroles today to ask clemency for William R. Ray, sentenced to die May 20 for the rape of a Fort Worth school girl two years ago. They were E. S. Ray, stepfather of the sentenced man, and Mrs. Jack Claybrook, all of Vernon.

Pardons Board Chairman R. A. Schmid said the group's appeal contained no new facts or evidence bearing on the case.

Sue Hardgrave Becomes Bride Of John Mayfield

Miss Sue Hardgrave, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Hardgrave, became the bride of John Mayfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Mayfield, at the Methodist church Thursday evening at 7 o'clock, with the Rev. Bill Perdue as officiant for the single ring ceremony which was held before an altar space adorned with white gladioli and summery greenery.

Mrs. H. L. Hardgrave was at the piano for a pre-nuptial prelude which included "I Love You Truly" and other well known love songs. She also played the traditional marches as processional and recessional.

Given By Father.
The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in pink matelasse organdy with white accessories and carried a bouquet of white carnations and nylon tulle, centered with a purple orchid and showered with satin ribbons.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Mary Jean Bounds who wore lime green linen with black accessories and a gardenia corsage. The best man was Bill Mayfield, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother wore gray chiffon with black accessories and a gardenia corsage, and the bridegroom's mother wore a gray suit with black accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Informal Reception.
After the ceremony an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered white satin-wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom.

The bride's mother, Mrs. W. R. Bonner, sister of the bride, served the cake, and Miss D. D. Hannah of Dallas and Mrs. M. Myers of Corsicana, sisters of the bride, served the punch.

Mrs. H. L. Hardgrave and Aubrey Smith assisted in hostess duties.

The bride was graduated from Mildred High school and has been employed in the business office of Marks Bros. for several years.

The bridegroom was graduated from Corsicana High school, served four years as an infantryman in the European theater of operations, and is now a student at Navarro Junior College.

Mr. and Mrs. Mayfield plan to make their home in Corsicana.

WEDDING DATE ANNOUNCED.—Miss Vivian Womack, former Corsicana, daughter of W. C. Womack, 1401 West Ninth avenue, will become the bride of John D. Wheat, son of Mrs. Mary J. Wheat, Ranger, in this city Sunday, June 4. Miss Womack is a graduate of Corsicana high school, attended Baylor University and has been employed in Waco for the past two years. Mr. Wheat is a graduate of Colony high school, served in the Air Force, and is at present Credit Sales Manager of the B. F. Goodrich Store at Stephenville.

Change Made In Parking Meters

Final changes are being made today on the Beaton street parking meters. Effective Saturday, one-hour parking for five cents will prevail on Beaton street.

A crew of policemen and street department men were changing the meters today to conform with an amendment passed recently by the city commission.

The amendment stated the meters should be changed from two-hour to one-hour limits with no fractional parking time for less than five cents.

Music Club Closes Year With Guest Artist Program

KERENS, May 12.—(Spl.)—The music program and tea given by the Kerens Music Club, marked the close of the year's activities of the club, and offered an afternoon of entertainment long to be remembered by the club members and guests, who were the members of the Pioneer Literary Club and the Kerens Garden Club.

Guests assembled in the auditorium of the Methodist church where a delightful program consisting of vocal, piano and violin solos, was presented by a group of students from the music department of T. S. C. W. at Denton.

Mrs. Lucy Garrett, club president, welcomed the guests and introduced Miss Ruth Andrews, instructor who in turn introduced each program participant, giving their musical background.

Following the program, a tea was held in the home of Mrs. Carroll Thompson with Mesdames L. H. Carroll Jr., Charles E. Reese, A. Loyce Webb, Norma Shelton and Ann Morrison.

The refreshment table was covered with a deep ruffled white organdy cloth and had as its floral centerpiece a lovely arrangement of pink roses, pink cornflowers and daisies flanked by crystal figurines.

Mrs. J. B. Coates served frosted lime punch and the guests served themselves ribbon sandwiches and mint from crystal trays and compotes.

Old and New Cornerstones Placed In Remodeled IOOF Home Dormitory

Old and new cornerstones were formally placed in the remodeled dormitory building at the IOOF Home in ceremonies presided over by Ted Jasperson, Edinburg and Corsicana, grandmaster of Texas, Thursday afternoon.

The dormitory will be occupied by the boys in the future. It was erected in 1905 as a girls' dormitory and was used as such until a few years ago. The girls now reside in the new main building.

Approximately $43,000 was expended in the remodeling and modernization of the structure.

Copper boxes containing records were placed in the cornerstones. Speakers included the grandmaster, Mrs. Berta H. Porter, Fort Worth, secretary of the Rebekah Assembly of Texas, daughter of B. J. Hubbard, grandmaster when the building was originally erected; S. M. Williams, Dallas, grand secretary, a student at the Home at that time; Judge W. T. Savage, Dallas, former grandmaster and former chairman of the board of trustees; Dr. H. E. Stinson, Niles, chairman of the board, also an ex-student of the Home; Mrs. Voyed Howard, El Paso, past president of the Rebekahs and chairman of the advisory board; Mrs. Mahel Patten, Paris, president of the Rebekah Assembly of Texas; Paul Daventon, superintendent of the Home.

Modern Diagnosis

By W. F. BROWN, Of Johnson Pharmacy

Laboratories today contain many instruments designed to aid in the diagnosis of illness. X-rays which photograph the body, electrocardiogram machines which register heart action, machines through which the human organs can be observed while functioning, all help the doctor in diagnosis. Add to this the vast number of laboratory tests which can be made, by trained, skilled technicians.

In diagnosis and in treatment, pharmacy products play an important part. For his professional use your doctor buys the best. You will profit by purchasing quality drugs, too.

Teresa Wright Refuses To Pose As Glamor Girl

By BOB THOMAS HOLLYWOOD, May 15.—(AP)—No false eyelashes or slinky, slit-to-the-knee gowns for Teresa Wright. She claims she's glamorous and kind of it.

"I'm not the glamor type," said the forthright actress. "Glamor girls are born, not made. And the real ones can be glamorous even if they don't wear magnificent clothes. I'll bet Lana Turner would look glamorous in anything."

"There's a certain quality about glamor girls," Ava Gardner and Marlene Dietrich are examples. Whatever it is, they demand attention wherever they go.

"I argue that Betty Davis is glamorous, too. She isn't a real beauty like Ava Gardner, but she has a magnetic personality. When she enters a room, all eyes are focused on her."

Teresa admitted she once made a stab at being glamorous. "I bought a false hairpiece," she recalled. "But the darned thing kept falling on my shoulder."

"I belong to that unfortunate group of people who seem to fall apart. I can dress very carefully, but the time the evening is over, my hair looks unkempt, my lipstick is gone and my fingernails are dirty."

No Attributes As it must all young actresses, the proposal to pose for some cheesecake pictures once came to Teresa. She put an end to the suggestion right away.

"I argued that I didn't have any of the attributes to pose for cheesecake. I said I would have to make good on my acting ability, which was the only attribute I could offer."

"My goodness, if the public should get one look at me in a bathing suit, they would shudder!"

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 15.—(AP)—A limited demand today in the stock market was enough to put prices slightly higher. General Motors ran far in advance of the rest of the list with a rise of more than 2 points at times.

The volume of trading was restricted to the rate of 1,200,000 shares for the entire day. The slowest session in about two months.

Most of the gains were fractional.

Radio-television had some early popularity, but quieted down later in the day and held below the best prices.

Railroads were steady and quiet with a number trading unchanged for long periods. Holders just aren't selling on the strike news.

There was a general air of caution about the whole market, just as there was on most days last week.

Stocks on the higher side included Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Chrysler, Studebaker, Goodyear, Admiral Corp., Phillips, Union Pacific, Standard Oil (N.Y.), U. S. Gypsum, International Paper, American Can, Du Pont (which raised its dividend to 75 cents as against 75 cents paid in the previous quarter), Phelps Dodge, and Consolidated Natural Gas.

The curb market was narrowly mixed. Tending higher were ABC Vending, Alinsworth, Claude Neon, Ball Lamp, Producers Corp., Eversen & Haynes, and Selected Industries. Lower were Aluminum Ltd., Domestic Electric, Electric Bond and Share, Kaiser-Frazer, and Louisiana.

Bond trading was slow. U. S. Treasury issues were unchanged in the over the counter market.

TEXAS TODAY

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

Associated Press Staff

"If it didn't rain for a thousand years," said L. A. Howard of Lubbock, "the water would still have underground water."

Coming from a director of the Hi-Plains Water Conservation and Use Association, Howard's statement is a startling one.

"How do you figure that, Mr. Howard?"

"By using information from the geologists. They say our country is full of underground water comes from rains that fell up in Bailey and Lamb counties of Texas and out westward toward Roswell, New Mexico."

"Those are sandy regions. When it rains, the water drops right down into the ground."

Moves Underground Slowly

"Underground in the water sands, it moves slowly—in a southeasterly direction—at the rate of 200 feet a year. The water we are using here now probably came from the rain that fell in Bailey and Lamb counties hundreds of years ago."

"So if it didn't rain for a thousand years, the water already in the ground would be moving toward Lubbock and would still take care of us. It's nice to think about it."

"But what about some of the deep irrigation wells that have quit producing water, Mr. Howard?"

"That can be due to a faulty structure—or to a thin layer of water sand—or perhaps the dry well is at the edge of an underground water body. The formation of water sand is up to 45 feet deep in 14 counties of the North and South Plains are proving it every day. The level of the underground water is up to 45 feet lower. And I predict it will be even higher next year."

Offers Novel Plans

Howard, a steady 58-year-old attorney, known to some friends as "Little Atlas," The Hi-Plains Water Conservation and Use Association with members in 14 irrigation counties, is now working on a plan of underground water districts which will regulate spacing of irrigation wells and take steps to "recharge" the underground water supply.

"It can be recharged," Mr. Howard said.

"One way is to dig deep wells, fill them with gravel and then dam streams and allow the water to flow into them. Another method is to dig such wells in this area, so that when it rains the water will flow down into the ground rather than evaporate."

Gilbert Stubbs Shot Sub-Par Golf to Down Dick Martin, 2 and 1

By PAUL MOORE

Sun Sports Editor

It finally happened! A Corsicana favorite son golfer turned the trick and Sunday afternoon Gilbert Stubbs became the champion of the 15th annual Corsicana invitation golf tournament.

He did it the hard way, too, defeating three sensational former champions from Dallas in two days.

Stubbs shot sub-par golf to win the title and the hundreds of the decidedly partisan gallery let out a cheer when he halved seventeen with Dick Martin, Dallas, defending two-time champion to give him a 2 and 1 victory.

Mrs. W. J. Rochelle Funeral Rites Held Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. W. J. Rochelle, 63, who died in Washington Wednesday night, were held from the First Methodist church Saturday at 3 p. m. Burial was in Oakwood cemetery. The rites were conducted by Dr. Edwin F. Bohm, pastor of the church. Mrs. Rochelle suffered a stroke Monday night.

The body lay in state at the church from 2:30 to 3 p. m. A native of Dawson, Mrs. Rochelle resided in Corsicana for many years before the family went to Austin where her husband was with the Texas Insurance Commission, and later with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in Washington. Corsicana was the official residence of the family while in Austin and Washington.

Surviving are her husband, a son, W. J. Rochelle, Jr., Dallas; two grandsons, two brothers, H. E. Gable, Highland Park, and Dr. J. T. Gable, Vista, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. C. P. Lilly, Dallas, and Mrs. K. L. McKeown, Corsicana, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Palbearers were Harry Beck and Philip I. Palmer, both of Dallas; Festus A. Pierce, J. N. Garitty, N. Suttie Roberts, Emmett Hall and J. Floyd Smith.

McCammon Funeral Home directed.

YOU GET MORE AND CLEANER GRAIN WITH THE MASSEY-HARRIS Clipper Combine

When it comes to saving more grain—under all conditions—the Clipper is still ahead of the field. Three point construction—full six foot cut, five foot rasp bar cylinder, straight thru separation—gives the Clipper extra capacity, extra ability to get all of your grain.

And you can count on the Clipper to bring in your crop with less damage. You get cleaner grain that brings a better price.

Extra capacity pays off with fast operation . . . lower production costs . . . a more profitable harvest season. The Massey-Harris Clipper has had plenty of experience too. There are successful harvests in more than 110 different crops in back of the Clipper. Everything from tiny blue grass to the largest beam . . . it is in a day's work to the Clipper.

Next time you're in town stop in for full details. Let's talk over the advantages of a Massey-Harris Clipper Combine for your farm.

Funeral Rites For Auto Victim Held Saturday

Funeral services for a 24-year-old L. West, 24, fatally injured in an auto-truck mishap near Corsicana Friday afternoon, were held from the Ross Avenue Baptist church in Dallas Saturday afternoon. The rites were conducted by Dr. Homer Reynolds.

West, a traveling salesman for a photograph company, was pronounced dead on arrival at the P. and S. Hospital after his 1950 Studebaker coach had struck a Texas highway maintenance truck near the Bear Creek bridge on Highway 78 three miles north of Corsicana.

Constable Joe Allen said the auto skidded about 60 feet before the mishap. The car was traveling north.

E. B. Austin of Corsicana, highway employee, was injured and suffered shock.

A native of Dallas, West was a World War II veteran, having served in the Pacific.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Margaret Virginia West; a son, David West; mother, Mrs. Frieda West, and grandmother, Mrs. Josephine Martin, all of Dallas.

This is the third auto fatality in Navarro county this year.

Corley Funeral Home handled local arrangements.

Central Auxiliary Meets At Wortham

WORTHAM, May 12.—(Sp.)—In the Wimberly home Monday afternoon, Mrs. Wimberly, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Maud Riley, was hostess for the meeting of the Central Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church. Large attendance of the membership gathered despite the stormy weather. The president, Mrs. G. C. Williams, presided and gave the devotionals. Mrs. Harry Bounds, secretary, read a letter from Mrs. Marley Smith expressing appreciation and thanks for the lovely gift presented by the auxiliary, which was in appreciation of her service as an officer and church worker.

Deep regret was expressed that we are to lose Mrs. Smith and her family, but we are glad to know they have joined in the church work in Corsicana.

Much time was given for Mrs. W. H. Dodds to report on the Eucharistial meeting held in West. Assisting her was Mrs. H. C. Meador. Both brought inspirational messages of the increased growth of the entire work.

Concluding the meeting was the Bible study "Visions of the Wrath of God," from the seventh and eighth chapters of Amos, given by Mrs. K. W. Sanders. During the social time, delicious refreshments were enjoyed.

VALEDICTORIAN—Ruth Turner, native of Corsicana, is valedictorian of the Hawkins High School 1950 graduating class with a four year average of 96.35. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude C. Turner who moved to Hawkins from Corsicana six years ago, Miss Turner has received many scholastic and other honors including band sweet heart, majorette, most beautiful girl in high school, secretary-treasurer of Junior Class, annual staff member, secretary of the Band Club, class treasurer and queen of the school. She plans to enter Kilgore College in September, but will enroll in the famed Kilgore College hard in time to make the trip to Chicago this summer.

Information On Veterans' Checks

For veterans leaving school or otherwise changing addresses at the end of this term, the Waco Veterans Administration center has some advice about checks.

Checks for May subsistence will go out at the end of May. By then, VA figures, a lot of veterans will have changed addresses for the summer.

If a veteran plans to move in either May or June, he should report that change of address now, VA says, and tell whether it is "permanent" or "temporary."

If a veteran wants the May check delivered to his present address and the June check to a new one, he should give the VA the address now and date the change "June 1950."

VA says some veterans are also due to get leave checks. These will be mailed about June 30. The advice about immediate reporting of changes in address applies as well to leave checks, VA says.

plementary remarks to those directing. These included Mrs. Helen Miller, Mrs. Lewis Bennett, Mrs. Carrie McKinney, Mrs. J. A. Paschal and Miss Ethel Inman. Mrs. Carroll Thompson was piano accompanist.

Farm Home Efficiency Expert Gives Tips On Making Rural Life Pleasant

A farm home efficiency expert gave agricultural workers here Thursday night some tips on making rural life more pleasant.

From the front gate to the barn, from clothes line to the kitchen, wise family planning will do much to solve a farmer's problems, said Mrs. Frances Low of College Station.

Home management specialist for the Extension Service, Mrs. Low stressed family and community co-operation—a prerequisite to getting things done.

Following a brief address, Mrs. Low commented on the showing of several color slides relating to farm life and home improvement.

"It is a matter of planning together to help rural people meet their problems," she told the Navarro County Agricultural Workers Association at their May meeting in the Navarro Hotel.

"When the entire family plans a landscaping project," she said, "each member more than likely will get shovels and start digging."

As agricultural workers, she continued, "we first must have an open mind, and secondly, we must develop more leadership among the rural people. The strength of a community lies in the people's working together."

Throughout the showing of the slides, the former Henderson County Home Demonstration Agent cited efficiency steps taken to lessen the burdens on housewives. For example, there was the child's little wagon beside the clothes line, used to carry clothes.

A simple cattle guard saves countless time, wasted in opening and shutting gates.

Homes shown had ample closets, kitchen cabinet and pantry space.

Rural problems, the speaker said, have grown since schools have consolidated; and more emphasis now is on the city. Communities as they once were have gone, she said. Many of the problems she listed are:

Health and nutrition, need of proper sewerage disposal.

Safety and recreation.

Spiritual—need for help on how to enjoy life.

Farm spending—assistance on the use of money.

Co-operation to get all the above things.

sidied over by President W. H. Butler, a committee composed of C. A. Vaughn, Osie Cagle, and Lee Bonner was named to plan an outdoor recreational program for the July meeting.

CARD OF THANKS.

The family of Mr. Webster Lee wishes to express their deepest appreciation to their many friends for responding and helping in time of our bereavement.—Mrs. Edna Lee and Family.

CASE

MODEL "A" COMBINE

"Head and Shoulders

● That's the verdict of those who know combines. If you always have clean, upstanding crops, you may not really need a combine so capable as the Case "A." But for small seeds like clover, that take real rubbing to thresh out . . . or a brittle crop like beans . . . or fine, fluffy seeds like some of the grasses . . . or even grain that is tough to thresh, the "A" is in a class by itself.
